Music for World Communion Sunday on Oct. 2 will include the Senior Choir men singing Schubert's "Holy, Holy, Holy" (Sanctus). "I Am the Light of the Nations" from Mexico, and the Italian motet "Cantate Domino" (Sing to the Lord a New Song) by Pitoni will remind us that people in other parts of the world celebrate communion today also.

Uke Stars - the ukulele choir – now practices on Tuesday nights. Talk to Dom Tralli if you would come, too.

Directed by Matt Burke, the Family Choir will sing in church on Oct. 2, and then on Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 20, and Christmas Sunday, Dec. 18. More people, single or with a family, are welcome to join. Intergenerational Sundays now coincide with the holidays, and will include the Sunday school children, the Family Choir, and other groups.

Bell Choirs  Ringers-on-the-Square and the Jubilation Handbell choirs are working on new music for the Christmas season. Director Diantha Dorman sends her love.

Senior Choir women -- and those beyond the camera -- send Get Well wishes to their singer friends Jane Harris and Gerald Rumrill.
